Announcing JHI 2011 Sponsor Opportunities

Join JHI as a 2011 Sponsor and place your company in front of a global audience of top professionals and decision-makers in the accounting industry.

JHI is a global affiliation of nearly 120 independent accountancy, business advisor and financial consulting firms in over 55 countries providing accounting, auditing, tax and business consulting services to clients doing business across international borders.

JHI offers sponsorship opportunities at international and region conferences through programs, event activities, communications and collateral materials throughout the year. By taking advantage of a wide range of channels, high-profile venues and distinctive opportunities, JHI sponsors place their firms in the global spotlight before, during and after JHI events to promote their company, products and services to top influencers from the accounting industry.

JHI events rotate annually across the globe to provide sponsors with an international platform to network with prospects in-person, helping sponsors get one step closer to turning that prospect into a client.
